

BE FRIENDLY—WITH A BOOK, slogan of the first annual used book sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library, is aptly illustrated by these three models from Bill Adrian's Agency who are carting used volumes, via a wheelbarrow, to a collection point. All proceeds of the sale, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Loomis, president of the Friends, will be used to buy new books for the library here. The girls, incidentally, do not come with the books. They are, from left, Barbara Barlow, Rawlene Alvigini and Julie Sarmast. Donations may be made through April 10.

Friends Book Sale Intrigues TV Author

"Be friendly—with a book!"

When Mrs. Helen Loomis, president of the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library, conceived that slogan for the civic organization's first annual benefit book sale, she had no idea it would "catch on" as far distant as Hollywood.

Intrigued with the idea, Frank Gruber, prolific author of western novels as well as executive creator of the "Tales of Wells Fargo" TV series, volunteered to contribute a shelf of his own books—each personally autographed to "A special friend of the Sierra Madre Library."

HIGHEST bidders will receive the collectors' volumes at the big sale, scheduled for August 16, 17, and 18, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Library Community Room.

Meanwhile, as the collection of used books for the benefit sale began, three teen-age cover girls from Bill Adrian's Agency banded together as "The Sweet Sixteens" and began a door-to-door collection under Mrs. Loomis' supervision.

They are Rawlene Alvigini, of Arcadia, and Julie Sarmast and Barbara Barlow, of Pasadena, all 16 years of age.

BOOK DONATIONS may be deposited at the Sierra Madre Library, Sierra Madre

Red Cross Gifts Go to Vets Hospital

The local chapter of the American Red Cross will deliver seven hand crocheted lap robes and 1,500 cookies this month to the Veterans Hospital in Long Beach.

The lap robes were donated by Mrs. Julia Hennessey and the cookies by the women of Trinity Presbyterian Church.

The Red Cross here is now conducting its fund campaign in an attempt to raise $7,200, the amount needed to maintain its office and provide services to the town. So far less than half that amount has been contributed.

Mrs. Adelaide Miller, executive secretary of the local chapter, urged contributors to send donations to Red Cross headquarters at 25 S. Baldwin.

High School for Girls Planned in Sierra Madre

PLANS WERE FILED in City Hall this week covering the construction of a new Catholic high school for girls in the 12-acre estate of the Sisters of St. Francis of Mt. Alverno on W. Highland. Figure No. 1 is the proposed library and administration building, Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 are classrooms, including an outdoor dining area (No. 5). Nos. 6 and 12 show the tennis courts and a future gymnasium. No. 14 is a fish pond, and Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 are existing structures. No. 13 shows a parking lot which would have room for 46 cars. The city must approve plans

Plan Proposes Street, Apartment Buildings

A complete plan for the development of the block between Hermosa and Baldwin was presented at a public meeting last night in City Hall.

The plan, prepared by Simon Eisner and Associates, calls for the construction of a street and other changes in the block bounded by Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza, on the north and south, and by Baldwin and Hermosa, on the east and west. (Results of the public meeting were not known at the time the Sierra Madre News went to press.)

POINTS covered in the plan include:

1. The construction of a street with a 28-foot right-of-way from Baldwin to a point east of the Congregational Church. The street would circle and exit on Esperanza. It would be built on property owned by Sierra Madre businesses and would not be accessible to Esperanza property owners.

2. Multiple family residences in the area east of the Congregational Church and behind the businesses, from the hotel to Dr. Nathan Jacobs' office.

3. Parking spaces behind the apartment houses, and an alley and loading zone behind business places.

4. An office building on Baldwin, north of the proposed street.

IN GENERAL, the plan is similar to a proposal made several weeks ago before the City Council by Sam Perloff, owner of the Royal Drug Store, except that it is more detailed.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said all interested property owners were contacted before the meeting on Wednesday.

Other local realtors who will participate are Harold Pangborn, Harry Lange and Barney Napier.

The top two prizes, wearing apparel worth $100 each, for a man and a woman, were won by Miss Ruth Dile, 157 N. Mountain Trail, and by Mrs. Verna Cannon, 161 Santa Anita Ct.

Other winners were Mike Nickerson, Don McGilligan, Mrs. Charlotte Estes, Mrs. Dorothy Pagenkopf, Mrs. Thomas Fox, Mrs. A. Delveci, Mrs. A. R. Aronson, Ross Tyree, Mrs. R. Stork, and Troy Larch F. Ferrelle.

Sturtevant Trail Workers to Meet At Ranger Station

Members of Boy Scout and other youth groups were reminded yesterday to meet at the Sierra Madre Ranger Station this Saturday morning to prepare for the renovation of Sturtevant Trail.

Young people who are willing and able to work should meet at 8:30 a.m. at the station at the top of Santa Anita Ave. Ranger Jack Tice will be in charge.

That portion of the trail from Circle-H Ranch to the Half-Way House will be renovated.

Sierra Madre Day Set by Realty Board

It will be Sierra Madre Day at the Sierra Madre-Arcadia Realty Board meeting on Wednesday, April 8, at Henry's Restaurant, Huntington Dr., Arcadia. The meeting will start at 7 p.m.

Mayor Charles H. James will speak, and John H. Curtis, Sierra Madre realtor, will be program chairman.

Other local realtors who will participate are Harold Pangborn, Harry Lange and Barney Napier.

Civic Club to Beautify Boulevard Parkways

Sierra Madre Civic Club will begin its campaign to beautify parkways along Sierra Madre Blvd. April 5 following the program outlined by Mrs. James Vine, community service chairman, and endorsed by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Club members will contact homeowners and take orders for ground covering plants or gravel, between April 7 and 11. Barrett's Home Gardens and Osti's Landscape Nursery will give discount prices to all Sierra Madre Blvd. residents wishing to purchase the plants or gravel.

City owned property will be planted in ice plants by club members on April 18

Catholic Academy To Facilitate 500

A Catholic high school for girls will be opened in Sierra Madre in September, 1960, providing a conditional use permit is granted by the Planning Commission and the City Council.

The proposed school, which would eventually handle 500 girls from freshman through the senior class, will be built on the 12-acre estate at 675 W. Highland, now the home of the Sisters of St. Francis.

The Catholic order, a teaching group, also runs a novitiate on the property. If the Planning Commission approves the new school, the novitiate will be moved to Redwood City, according to Thomas R. Suttner, attorney who is handling the proposal.

TEACHERS AT the high school would be from the Sisters of St. Francis. Additional teachers also would have to be hired, Mr. Suttner said.

A public hearing on the new school will be held before the Planning Commission on April 16 at 8 p.m. in the City Council chambers.

Since the estate is in an R-1 zone, a conditional use permit must be obtained before a high school can be built.

IN HIS request to the Planning Commission, Mr. Suttner said the proposed permit is based on grounds that there are special circumstances attached to the property which do not apply to other properties in the same district.

He added that the granting of a permit will not result in any damage or prejudice to other property nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare.

According to plans filed with the clerk of the Planning Commission, the high school will contain four classroom buildings, a combined administration building and library, an outdoor dining area, tennis courts and eventually a gymnasium.

IT WILL be built on one of the most beautiful pieces of property in Los Angeles County. The estate includes the residence and chapel of the Sisters of St. Francis and four other buildings. The grounds are immaculate and contain, in addition to shrubbery, large numbers of orange and olive trees that were imported from Italy.

The first year of the high school's proposed existence, only the freshman class will be in operation. A new class will be added each year until all four high school grades are established.

In this respect, the school will be similar to La Salle High, a Catholic boys school at Michillinda and Sierra Madre Blvd.

Cancer Group Sets 3-Hour Drive

Volunteer cancer fighters are urgently needed to help conduct a city-wide attack on cancer the night of April 20, according to Mrs. Hugh F. Colvin, 336 Sturtevant Dr., who will head the mass life-saving effort.

The goal of the three-hour door-to-door crusade will be to reach every home in Sierra Madre to deliver information about cancer and ask for donations to support the American Cancer Society's year-round cancer control program.

In asking citizens to join the crusade, Mrs. Colvin said:

"We know that cancer will strike two out of every three of the families we hope to reach—one in every four Sierra Madreans.

"We also know that the cancer facts we will be delivering now can save one of every two of our fellow citizens when cancer strikes, and the dollars we hope to raise can provide comfort and new aid for those who cannot now be saved."

She urged residents to join the crusader ranks by calling ELgin 5-0322 or SYcamore 5-4655.

A film on cancer for women only will be shown April 6 at 10:30 a.m. at Jefferson School, Pasadena. Another film, for mixed groups, will be shown April 7 at 7:45 p.m. at Marshall Junior High.

Mantovani Is Foothill Concert Artist

Mantovani and his orchestra will appear Sunday afternoon in the season's final concert sponsored by the Foothill Community Concert Association. The concert will start at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Monrovia High School.

The Foothill Community Concert Association, a non-profit group, is now arranging to sell memberships for the 1956-60 series, Mel Pratt, president, announced.

Memberships are $6 for adults and $3 for students, and the fees collected guarantee four or five concerts a year. Those desiring information may call Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Sierra Madre chairman, at ELgin 5-0450, or the Arcadia Music Mart, Hillcrest 6-3111.

Selling memberships in Sierra Madre are Mrs. Daniel D'Arcy, Dan Parker, O. R. Haas, Noren Eaton, Franklin Franco, Joseph N. Karam Jr., Richard F. Hickman and William Palmer.

The association will hold a kick-off dinner Monday night at Henry's Restaurant (formerly Eaton's) in Arcadia.

Winners In Chamber Contest Told

A complete list of winners in the Spring Sell-O-Bration was released yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the city-wide promotion.

The top two prizes, wearing apparel worth $100 each, for a man and a woman, were won by Miss Ruth Dile, 157 N. Mountain Trail, and by Mrs. Verna Cannon, 161 Santa Anita Ct.

Other winners were Mike Nickerson, Don McGilligan, Mrs. Charlotte Estes, Mrs. Dorothy Pagenkopf, Mrs. Thomas Fox, Mrs. A. Delveci, Mrs. A. R. Aronson, Ross Tyree, Mrs. R. Stork, and Troy Larch F. Ferrelle.

Royal Grill Owners Move to Sierra Madre

Park and Fran Chase, owners of the Royal Grill, have moved with their four children to 342 Camillo, Sierra Madre. They formerly lived in La Puente.

Starting Monday, the Royal Grill will open at 6 a.m. instead of 8 o'clock. The opening hour has been changed in response to many requests, Mr. Chase said.

What Price, Our Schools?

Sierra Madreans, on May 19, once again will be asked to raise school taxes, a request that is made with regularity, not only here but in almost every community in the nation.

Why, the voters will wonder, must we have still more money to run our elementary schools when only three years ago we approved a tax increase of about 50 per cent?

Any businessman, I'm sure, scrutinizing his own affairs, could answer that question. It's simply a case of higher costs and lower income (per pupil).

STATE AID to the Sierra Madre Elementary School District, for example, decreased from $173 per pupil in 1954-55 to $125 in 1957-58.

The reason: The state decided in 1955-56 to change the formula by subtracting from the amount given medium wealthy districts, such as Sierra Madre, and adding to the amount allocated poorer districts.

True, the assessed valuation increased in Sierra Madre, but the increase did not keep up with the added number of pupils who must be educated each year. In 1953-54, we had 723 pupils. We now have 817—or three more classrooms—and next year we will have about 842—four additional classrooms.

The elementary district is asking for an increase of from $1.56 to $2.0693, including the over-ride. If approved, this figure will raise approximately $312,566 from property taxes, or about $66,500 more than was raised in this school year.

WHERE WILL the additional money go?

1. A total of $23,300 will go into the reserve fund, which has declined to $6,700. The reserve should be maintained at $30,000, according to school authorities.

2. $13,500 will go to pay the salaries of three new teachers. They are necessary to meet the increased student load.

3. $3,000 must be spent to maintain teachers' salary schedules.

4. $11,000 must be used to pay Pasadena in increased tuition costs for our seventh and eighth graders.

5. $4,800 has been earmarked to complete repairs to the roof of Sierra Madre School.

As you can see, there is still $11,200 unaccounted for. This money presumably may be used at the discretion of the Board of Education (with the approval of the taxpayers) on many projects, including educational materials and possible additional repairs to the school plant.

It seems to me entirely reasonable for the Board to ask for a little more than is absolutely necessary to meet expenses.

WHAT WILL happen if the tax measure fails? Superintendent Robert E. Walker said simply that we will have to "reassess the situation."

Practically, though, all services will have to be cut to the bone. Classrooms will be overcrowded, bus service will be eliminated, the cafeteria closed and the music teacher dropped from the payroll.

We can have this type of school system if we want it, but we will be saving only $15 a year on a home which is assessed at approximately $3,000. That's the average cost to the individual property owner—$15 a year or $1.25 a month—to pay for the 50-cent increase in school taxes.

Every property owner in Sierra Madre, I feel sure, can afford $15 more a year to support a good school system. A vote against the school tax measure, would be, it seems to me, a foolish and false way to save the price of a few cartons of cigarettes.—H.W.E.

Pineapples and Cowboys

The land of the pineapple and the hula is also the land of the cowboy.

In fact, cowpunchers were riding the Hawaiian ranges several years before Texans began driving their steers to market along the old Chisholm Trail.

CAPT. GEORGE VANCOUVER, the English explorer, brought the first cattle to Hawaii in 1793. Protected by the king, the longhorns ran wild and multiplied.

When John Palmer Parker settled in the islands in 1815, the king hired him to slaughter the cattle, prepare their hides, and salt the beef for sale to visiting ships.

At first the king owned all the herds. But after the Great Mahele, or division of land, selected herds were settled on private ranches. And Parker's business mushroomed into a 300,000-acre ranch in the uplands of Hawaii Island that was to become the second largest cattle ranch in the U.S.

THE HAWAIIANS learned to ride and rope from Spanish cowboys imported from Mexico, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. Their word for cowboy still is "paniola," from "español," or Spaniard.

Hawaiian paniolas like Eben P. K. Low, grandson of the founder of the Parker ranch, have won many rodeo events on the U.S. mainland. Even after he lost one hand in a roping accident, Low, nicknamed "Rawhide Ben," challenged any man to top his roping skill. In 1908 he was crowned at Cheyenne, Wyo., as the one-handed champion roper of the world.

The Line Is Busy

It's hard to say now just who owns the record on the number of persons jammed into a telephone booth.

Apparently it all started when students at London University shoehorned 18 of their members into a phone booth. Such an achievement couldn't be allowed to go unchallenged so Hatfield Technical College over there sardined 19 undergrads into a similar compartment.

Then the boys on this side of the Atlantic got into the act. St. Mary's College at Moraga, Calif., claimed 22 and from campuses here and there came varying reports of "achievement."

At last, the college kids now have a new meaning for "cramming."

Letters to the Editor

HE WHO FOLLOWS

Dear Sir: Apropos your "non-conformist" editorial, the following is worth quoting. . . It is from the daily column of George Adams in The Mirror. News:

"I have noted that history says very little about those who have taken the middle ground. Either it tells of the one who stood his ground against rolling forces—and stood it doggedly—or else it tells of him who ran so fast that the crowd tried itself out trying to keep up."

"What about this fellow, this extremist, anyhow? Well, he is the chap who arouses, who spurs the laggards on, who leads, who thinks whole decades ahead of his time, who has the real courage of youth, who thinks, who believes, and who feels."

"He is the one who gets criticized, who is the target of fine-penned writers, and who—pays no attention whatever to all this!"

"Instead of finding fault with the extremist and making fun of him, keep your eyes on him. Watch him. Sooner or later you will be following him."

Paul L.

PRICE OF FREEDOM

Dear Sir: An inordinately large number of "non-conformists" stalk the streets of every city in the United States, thank God! He will indeed be stalking, not recumbent, for he has a spine and stands on his own two feet and faces his world of whatever period in history, as an individual.

If you hadn't heard, that's what the history of the United States is about—the individual.

As you permit Aldous Huxley to explain, these are trying times, which are not made better by practitioners of the cult of "human engineering"—or those who hope to influence by "government by print."

Vigilance is still the price of freedom, and our most precious possession. Let us all exert our very best brinkmanship before any segment of our population is "pushed into economic limbo," and

"This, above all To thine own self be true And it shall follow as night to day Thou canst not be false to any man."

Grace R. Vance

QUESTIONS BOARD

Dear Sir: The results of the last meeting of the Board of Education in Sierra Madre were extremely interesting. We would like to ask a few questions, with corresponding fruitful answers, if that is possible.

How come that after a candidate for that office has been rejected by the voters, he was appointed to this position against the will of the people?

Why? What is behind it? Isn't the will of the residents in Sierra Madre supposed to be carried out? And if not, why not?

The recent meeting, we think, was rigged, and in a very crude manner, at that.

We and a lot of other people would surely like to know why some members of the Board acted the way they did. Or did something change their minds for them? Are there perhaps some shady forces at work pulling brick by brick, until the whole structure falls. Are there? Thank you, El Burro

(No one has been appointed to anything. There will be a School Board election May 19 at which time voters may select two new Board members and decide either to approve or reject the proposed school tax increase. School Board meetings are not rigged. On the contrary, they frequently get out of hand. Meetings are open to the public and many Sierra Madreans take advantage of this privilege and attend them. There are no shady forces at work for the simple reason that there is nothing to hide. If El Burro does not approve of the tax increase or the candidates for office, he may vote against them.—Ed.)

HALF-PAST TEEN

Around the Square

By Tommy-Ann Miller

Is there a dearth of electricians in Sierra Madre? Last week the kitchen light went out. "Hmmm, small matter," said the Chancellor of the Exchequer. "I'll fix it." Five days passed and getting dinner by candlelight lost its glow. Husband still no fixer.

Several telephone calls during Easter week netted not one electrician (both Eber Thomas and Norman Dumas were off fishing) — and so was the housefrau fishing—in a dark kitchen. Temporary solution? There's now a 20-foot extension cord in a tangled web pinned to the defunct fixture with a bulb dangling dangerously over the diners—who resemble (under the naked light) send story workers plotting their next caper.

LUCKY BECKY. Faith — plus rising early to watch "Captain Kangaroo" (7 a.m.) on television netted 5-year-old Becky Butler a new Schwinn bicycle. Becky, daughter of the Jack Butlers, 180 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., won the bicycle in a nationwide contest — but wasn't really astounded since she's had faith all along that her name would be drawn.

LIBRARIAN "DAISY" (Gloria) Hinchshaw's talents aren't limited to being a fine pianist. Cymbidium grower, sports car enthusiast, etc. She recently took up the coronet and has mastered "When the Saints Go Marching In." She'll soon be able to fill in with a jazz group (husband, Hank, plays trombone) whenever the coronet player is out of town.

Daisy also tootles the C Major recorder—and is interested in contacting other recorder players — possibly for some chamber music sessions.

DOCTOR DEPARTS. The Franklin E. Ronalds have their South Canon house on the market and presently are basking in Puerto Rico. Dr. Ronald has his chiropractor office in Arcadia.

BUDGE AND KATY Jenkins and daughters, Julie (who's mending and back in school) and Elizabeth, drove down from San Francisco to spend Easter week with Budge's parents, the Loren Jenkins—and, of course, to visit Katy's many-membered family.

OTHER VACATION comes from the Bay area were Cookie Miller and Carol Andriatti, who bunked with Cookie's sister and brother-in-law, Mavis and Ken Sheets.

The Sheets' Siamese, "Yum Yum," just became the mother of four half-breed Siamese kittens—a blow to all, since her official courtship was with Wayne and Len Harris' Siamese male, "Troilus."

CHICKENS COMPETED. "Pennyfeather" and "Sarah," the Banty hens living with the Gordon MacKenzies, have resumed their Spring pastime of laying eggs in the family baby buggy. They've nested in the buggy (which is stored in the garage) and each day they take turns climbing in to lay eggs.

In the henny competition thus far, the Banties have each produced eight eggs.

WHAT DOES one bring home from a week in Arizona's Superstition Mountains? Well, the Lester Anthony family captured some desert lizards, a Whiptail Lizard, two species of Howard Lizard, a Shovel-nosed Snake (they saw no rattlers) and Banded Geko—which they've added to their collection.

A amateur herpetologist, Mary Reynolds and sons, Barry and Rickey, accompanied the Anthonys on the desert trailer trek and also made quite a reptilian haul.

BY NOW, Cupie Robertson's back homis in Somis—following hospitalization (for surgery — and how-are-you Cupie?) at the Ventura Hospital last week. Alan brought the children, Chris and Cindy, down to be with their grandmother, Mabel Butler and aunt, Delphine Lewis, on Mariposa Street.

SINCE SIERRA Madre has of the most drinkable water in all of Southern California (barring an occasional chlorine overload), it's always puzzling to note that some local residents import bottled water—(unless they're forced to by some galloping mad lady).

Beware of 'Boiler Room' Stock Operators

By Robert G. Spivack

HOT TIPS ON THE STOCK MARKET

The telephone rang and the conversation went something like this: "Listen, Bob. I've got something really good for you. It's stupendous. Do you have a thousand bucks? I've got some stock that's selling for $2 now and is certain to double or triple before the end of the year. If you get 500 shares now you'll probably be in time for the next quarterly dividend. It will be about 5 per cent."

"Who is this?" I asked. The voice was familiar, but the line of patter was not. "It's Earl Phillips," the man replied. "You remember me, don't you?" You wrote in and asked our company about the possibility of buying insurance company stock. Remember we ran an ad?

I did recall the ad. It was in a Sunday paper financial section. I sent a postcard and asked for a prospectus on a new stock offering. I did not know Mr. Phillips or his company and I did not like being called by my first name by someone I had never even met.

BUT CURIOSITY got the better of me and I decided to look into the stock offering. I could not afford to send the man $1,000 but I told a businessman about it. I asked if for the sake of doing a newspaper column he might want to put some money into the stock just so we could see how it worked out.

Sees Inflation Danger in Housing Bill

By Edgar W. Hiestand

Rep., 21st Dist., Calif.

The "budget busting" Omnibus Housing Bill sponsored by the majority leadership came out of the Banking and Currency Committee and now faces the Rules Committee; the last stop before reaching the floor of the House and general debate for final action.

Backers of the bill admit it would cost the taxpayers some $2.1 billion, compared with $1.6 billion recommended in the Administration's housing proposal. Actually, the "snowballing" features of the Omnibus Bill are such as to make its ultimate cost about $5.8 billion—over $4 billion of inflation more than asked by the Administration.

The dissenting minority report on the bill, which I signed, lists several specific objectionable parts of the bill, aside from the wasteful handling of your money, and these are well publicized in the newspapers.

THE SYNDICATED columnist Holmes Alexander frequently uses a fictional character, "Mr. Closeslooker," to examine the intricate parts of legislation; the parts that often escape the daily papers. "Mr. Closeslooker" would find much of interest in this dangerous bit of legislation.

First, "Mr. Closeslooker" sees a classic irony in that the highly self-advertised "friends of the people" who sponsored this bill carefully placed in it a tremendous loophole for certain investors.

Lowly Weed Should Win Honor, Esteem

By Lee Shippey

Consider the weed and be wise. You can starve it yet it never gives up. You can neglect it and despite it yet it never loses heart. You can dig and dig and dig it out, yet all you get out of it is a backache. Drought can blight all the land about it yet it carries on with courage and abiding faith. It sets an example which should win it honor and esteem instead of all the anathemas we can hurl against it.

It can swallow weed killer by the gallon and still smilingly invite you to get out the old hoe and take a little healthful exercise. It can endure all and forgive all and never desert us. It cherishes no grudges and stages comebacks which are almost miraculous.

I wish I were a weed . . . My gosh! Perhaps I am!

IT'S SPRING in California, even if the rains did skip the winter and try to throw the calendar out of gear. Not only the weeds but many other plants which seemed to have given up the struggle for existence are putting forth new leaves. The birds are uttering their tenderest notes, and My acquaintance did make an investment he could afford. Then he and I kept a running record of the experience.

Here are some of the things we learned: The securities salesman "forgot" to tell my friend that there was no public market for the stock he bought. That is, when he was ready to sell this "glit-edge" security he could not get rid of it on the New York Stock Exchange of the American Stock Exchange.

So far as any profit "guarantee" was concerned the salesman "forgot" to mention that the company was just starting operations.

There was very little likelihood of any dividend. In fairness to the salesman this was mentioned in the prospectus—but that came several days after the initial high pressure sales talk. It was in fine print and clouded with so much legal verbiage you needed a lawyer to figure out what the language said.

TECHNIQUE—Whether my friend gets "hurt" in this operation remains to be seen. I gather from some inquiries that this sort of high-pressure salesmanship is becoming rather typical. Many investors, looking for a quick way to make an easy buck, are likely to come in for a rather rude awakening.

On Wall St. the term for this sort of stock-selling is "boiler room" operation. It sprang up during the speculative fever of the 1920s and then vanished after the stock crash of 1929. The term "boiler room" came to be used to describe the high-pressure spiels made by telephone salesmen, working in close and noisy quarters.

Among the illegal or unethical practices used then and, apparently still the custom, are for salesmen to "forget" to tell you that the stocks they are selling are unregistered securities. Or that the company may be on the verge of bankruptcy.

THE SECURITIES and exchange Commission is alarmed over the rapidity with which "boiler rooms" are springing up all over the country.

"The operations of these confidence men," the agency said recently, "have been encouraged by the expectations of a substantial segment of the public that it is possible for the unsophisticated investor to reap large and quick profits in the securities markets."

Just to warn the wary investor how to detect a "boiler room" operator, the SEC says the most common technique is to sell securities "primarily over the telephone, particularly the long-distance telephone by high pressure methods, ordinarily accompanied by misrepresentation, deception and fraud."

While it is true that stock prices have soared in the last year to an all-time high, it is also true that you still can't get-rich-quick. (Copyright by Robert G. Spivack)

ings more expensive than those of which he can even dream. The increases in "room" allowances and reductions in down payment requirements are an open invitation to speculators to put up luxury type houses and apartments.

Above all, you don't have to be a "Mr. Closeslooker" to see the overriding built-in inflation of this omnibus and omnibus Housing Bill. With your Federal Budget very delicately balanced at $70 million, this bill would assure a deficit, meaning inflationary spending and that would hurt all the people. It would hurt especially the wage earner, white collar workers, and pensioners, whose incomes are traditionally slow to adjust to changes in the economy. Inflation—which means printing more money to pay for excessive spending—is invisible taxation. It's paid at the cash register of the retail store instead of to the tax collector.

WOULD THE American people want this housing bill if it carried with it a provision for additional taxes to pay for it? I think not. For that reason the bill should be drastically modified or defeated altogether.

We need a good housing bill. I am urging that one be enacted at this session of Congress. Three important phases of our present program are running out and need re-funding. These are the FHA home mortgage insurance program, slum clearance, and college housing.

law compelling California baseball teams to do their spring training in Southern California. Then, by golly, we'd get our share of rain.

AND SPEAKING of weeds, all persons who live on the Coast should appreciate ice plant. It can live on fog, resists fire and will grow where nothing else will. Other day we visited the Carl Colts in their dream house in San Clemente. It is perched on the edge of a cliff from which the drop to the sea is so sheer you feel like a space man. But Carl has draped the whole cliff with ice plant which holds the soil, prevents erosion—and looks good. I doubt that any other plant would stick there. And once it's growing it needs no care—a major consideration with lazy men like me.

Faith Lutheran Annex Dedication Set Sunday

At 10:10 a.m. on Sunday morning, between the Sunday School and the worship hour, the recently acquired Sunday School annex of Faith Lutheran Church will be dedicated.

The dedicatory rites will take place in front of the building, with Donald Frokjer, Sunday School superintendent, Kenneth Eiken, president of the congregation, and Pastor Armin Hesse conducting the service.

The 32 by 26 foot building was acquired last month as a gift from the Murphy Brothers, realtors. Moved to the church location on March 4, during recent weeks foundations have been constructed, utilities connected, and the structure has been repainted on the interior and exterior. Much of the work has been done by the men of the parish.

This annex will provide the additional rooms needed by the Sunday School and the annual Vacation Bible School. It also makes possible a nursery for small children during the church service, according to the pastor. Sunday School pupils and their parents, members and friends of the congregation are invited to attend the dedicatory rites and to inspect the building after the door opening. A second improvement on the church premises is the enlarged parking facilities which are currently under construction.

Committee Announces Prom Rules

Junior students at La Salle High School, who may have had hopes of an all-night prom party or a tour of the Sunset Strip following the prom, had their plans curtailed to reasonable proportions by a special parent-faculty-student committee which drew up a definite set of prom recommendations.

Some of the recommendations indicated that the juniors should have their dates home by 1:30 a.m. following the prom which is planned from 9 to 12 at Altadena Town and Country Club on May 1. Before prom dinners were discouraged, and a good number of chaperons will be on hand to see that the prom is successful.

Girls' formals will be subject to a "decency code" which eliminates the plunging neckline and strapless styles. The all night party program was shelved as inconceivable at any time.

The regulating board was appointed at a recent meeting of the parents' association at the school.

George Lane, president, saw that the discussion could be resolved only by a committee. Student representatives were Dennis Trudeau and Paul Kuerbis, both of Pasadena. Parent representatives were J. Nicklin, city attorney of Arcadia, Carlyle Griffin, Mrs. D. Young, Mrs. Bradford Kern, Mrs. Robert Frank, Mr. Rich Johnson, Mr. G. Lane, Mr. J. McMennamin, Brother E. Celestine, principal, and Brother T. Mol, vice principal, represented the faculty.

St. Rita's Guild will hold a luncheon meeting and fashion show Tuesday in the Parish Hall beginning at 11:45 a.m.

Garland's Department Store will provide the styles to be shown in "Springboard to Fashion." Mrs. John Tahl will comment on the show.

Mrs. Anthony De Pasco, program chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Caryl Griffin who has selected members of the guild to model the creations featuring patterns and fabrics available at Garland's.

Second grade mothers, under the supervision of co-room mothers, Mrs. A. Pacac and Mrs. A. Cracknell, will prepare and serve at the luncheon.

Mrs. Victor Daniels, president, will preside at the business meeting. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ruth Englert at ELgin 5-3176 or Mrs. Volcka at ELgin 5-0958.

VFW INSTALLATION
Joint installation ceremonies for newly elected officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary of Harry L. Embree Post 3208, will be held April 8 at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse, 40 E. Montecito.

WOMAN'S CLUB
Sierra Madre Woman's Club will have its regular monthly luncheon meeting next Wednesday beginning at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse.

At 1:30, Miss Mildred Roberts will speak on "The Role of the Bank in Your Community."

Following luncheon, served at noon, Gladys Hatley Scoles will present a current book review.

Those residents planning to make the bus trip to Ramona Playhouse on May 2, are reminded to purchase their tickets at Hartman Pharmacy. The bus will leave Kersting Square at 10 a.m. Tickets are $5 which includes the bus fare and play ticket.

ALA MEETING
American Legion Auxiliary will meet April 9 in the Covina home of Mrs. Anna Block, 261 Center St. Members will meet at Roberts Market for transportation. The department commander has called for the support of every member of the auxiliary in a letter writing campaign to their state senator, Richard Richards, and assemblyman, Frank Lanterman, to vote the defeat of limiting veterans home facilities to California veterans; and Governor Brown's omission of funds for the field bill and county service officers in the budget.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB
With the success of the March meeting of Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club, when Austin E. Turner of Pasadena spoke of his personal experiences in South America bringing about a greater friendship between two long-time hostile countries, Chile and Peru, and the music of Dr. Pease, in the unrehearsed quartet of singers, Mrs. Etta Leguin, vice president and acting chairman of programs, has arranged a varied program, stressing the talents of local performers, for April 6 at 2:30 p.m. in the Park House.

The program will include—turn to page five

Upsurge of Sharks Seen Off Coast

By Al Miyadi

QUOTA SYSTEM—The Department of Fish and Game has stepped up considerably game warden activity (citations) in Southern California.

At one Santa Monica Bay landing recently, 12 unwary, absentminded anglers were nailed and cited for fishing without a license.

Probable fines: $10 to $25. A warning would have seemed more in order—oh well, the State deficit, you know.

And conservation, of course.

SHARKS—Warning note: Lifeguards and skippers report a sharp, disturbing upsurge in shark activity off local beaches.

As the water warms, there will be even more. Most of them are blues and big—100 to 200 pounds.

A couple of teenagers last week took on rod and reel a 200-pounder off Paradise Cove. After they decked the shark, it immediately expelled 87 squirming slimy miniaturs.

LAKES—Isabella, Irvine and Cuchuma doing fantastic business. Fortunately, the fishing's been good. Isabella, in particular, has been real hot producer on bass. Isabella hosted 4,800 last weekend. Irvine on opening day pulled 2,500—on a week day, yet. All doing well on bluegill and crappie, too.

LISTEN—KFWB now giving daily fishing reports. News Director Bill Crago is skedding report six times daily, three in the aye period, three during the afternoon push.

YELLOWTAIL—Newport and Long Beach boats last week loaded up on yellowtail off San Clemente Island.

The yellows are really thick—and real small, three-pounders.

It's a good four to five hour ride to Clemente. Me, I get seasick. San Diego yellows, however, still on big side. Fishing at Border City has picked up somewhat, but passenger loads remain light.

Be tough sledding for them this year—local fishing shapes up real record-breaker.

Best bets for 1959: Rocky Point and Pt. Dumas.

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES

The arrow points to the guideline: "OUTFIT FOR A BIG VACATION."

The arrow points to the Ad-RIME lines must tie in and rhyme with the Guideline. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ads—one word in each column starting at the left. You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing—the two lines are a "jingle." One which can't win is: Here Are Best Stores In The Nation, but you must write original ones. Good luck — and keep trying.

ORDINANCE No. 618
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE PRESCRIBING A PURCHASE PROCEDURE.
THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE DOES ORDAIN:

SECTION 1. All municipal purchases shall comply with the following:

- Processing Requisitions.
- Whenever any department requires the purchase or acquisition of materials, supplies or services for the proper functioning of such department, it shall prepare a two-part pre-numbered requisition, preliminary to the processing of a purchase order, upon the form prescribed by the City Administrator.
- The requisition shall be signed by the Chief Officer of the department and the Chief Officer shall be deemed to be the authorized representative of the department and he may authorize, provided such authorization is in writing, his assistant, head or his deputy to sign the requisition on behalf of the department and on file with the City Clerk.
- Each such requisition, before it is processed, must be clearly marked by the department issuing, as follows:
 - Account number to which item is to be charged.
 - Name and address of vendor.
 - Shipping instructions.
- A requisition is not required for the purchase or acquisition of materials, supplies or services under the amount of five dollars ($5.00) or less.
- Purchases shall be made from petty cash, upon the approval of the department head. The department head shall approve and initial all invoices for purchases under $5.00.
- The City Administrator or his assistant must approve and initial all requisitions before a purchase order can be processed.
- Purchasing Process (after receipt of requisition).
 - Expenditures (less than $100.00) not emergency. The Purchasing Department shall prepare the purchase order and then such purchase order shall be signed, on all copies, by the City Administrator or his assistant. The blue copy (original) shall then be forwarded to the designated vendor. The green copy (second) shall be filed with the City Administrator. The third copy shall be retained by the purchasing department until delivery or acceptance of the purchase, whereupon it shall be handed to the City Administrator together with the acknowledgment of such delivery or acceptance.
 - Expenditures in excess of $100.00. Unless otherwise ordered by the City Administrator, the department involved shall first solicit at least three bids, or, if no bids are received, the department shall attempt to obtain the best value for the City. All telephone bids shall be recorded by the department head. On purchases in excess of $500.00, only written bids shall be permitted. The completed requisition, with bids, or bid summary attached, shall then be forwarded to the City Administrator for his approval and signature on all copies of the purchase order. The purchase order shall be processed and the signature of the City Administrator shall be placed on all copies of the purchase order. The blue original shall then be delivered to the lowest responsible bidder. The green, second copy, shall be filed with the City Administrator. WHERE'D DID THE PRESCRIPTION SYMBOL COME FROM?

Authorities disagree. It may be an abbreviation of the Latin word "recipe" (You take), or it may have been the sign of the pagan god, Jupiter. Another theory claims that scholars of the middle ages (often used the Latin word "radix" to signify answers to difficult multiplication problems. "Radix" was later abbreviated to Rx and adapted to represent medical answers to medical problems.
Which is right? Take your pick. And whether your doctor gives you a prescription or an "Rx" you can always be sure you'll get prompt efficient prescription service from us.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

I wonder why Courtesy Week should be confined to children alone. Surely they can only reflect the kind of training they have received at home.

You will seldom hear a child yell "shut up" unless it is a common expression in his home. And what about the drivers, both women and men? Why is it that when some people get behind the wheel of a car they become bullies ready to fight every inch of the way?

I saw four very embarrassed children one day in a parking lot as their mother told another driver to shut up! The reason behind the remark was simple. She chose to park in an almost empty parking lot beside another lady who was carefully loading a baby and some groceries in her car. She asked the driver to kindly wait a moment so that she wouldn't be forced to throw her baby into the car. For this remark she was answered in this most discourteous manner.

Bad day—maybe. Bad manners—YES! But, more important, the scene was observed. No one can afford to let down on courtesy as there is always someone to see and to remember.

MR. AND MRS. Joseph Philipson of Old House Road gave a delightful dinner party last week to honor Dr. and Mrs. A. Antonio who have recently moved back to California. Their guests included Dr. and Mrs. Armin Deutsch, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Lapin, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Styron, Mr. and Mrs. Alkman Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Maurin Jr.

THE DAVE ELMER home on Fairpoint was the scene of an annual community bridge party and dinner. The women invite their husbands for these evening affairs, which makes them kind of auxiliary members of the group. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Knight, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Price, Mr. and Mrs. William Zogg and Dr. and Mrs. Phil Lightfoot.

THERE WAS great excitement on Fairpoint and Old House Road last week as five pieces of fire equipment rolled in to quell the fire that involved the properties of the James E. Robbins of Old House Road and the G. D. Parris of Fairpoint. Damage was kept to a minimum through the quick action of the F.D.

Loss, one trailer and furnishings, tools, one tree, one damaged "T" Bird plus a fence and a few odd items. The loss could have been tremendous had not the call come in so soon, since the fire happened on a windy day.

THE KARL and Larry Dietzels of Meyer Lea Lane spent their Easter Sunday in a large family group at the home of the William A. Alens in Arcadia.

THE GEORGE CLARK home on Old House Road was the scene of the fourth annual Easter egg hunt and breakfast for members of their supper club and families. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Garo, Mr. and Mrs. Les Kafer, Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders, Mr. Mike Saunders, Mrs. Harvey Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ferracane, Mrs. Walter P. Stone and Mrs. Clifford Adams.

THE CARL G. WARNICKS of Sierra Madre Villa celebrated Easter with a big family gathering. Their daughter, Judy, returned Saturday from a vacation at the beach in time for the Easter services and celebration.

NEW ON the Kinneloa side are Mr. and Mrs. Claron Oakley of 2150 Kinneloa Canyon Rd. They recently moved into their beautiful new home they designed and built themselves. In addition, they HOSTESSES FOR Sierra Madre's famed Wistaria Garden Festival will be left to right, Sanja Guesswne, Carolyn Beadles, Susie Carter, Majorie Peters, and Linda Swindle. The girls were selected in a Southern California wide contest by the Teen Ranch division of the Youth for Christ. The famed vine, with its millions of lavender blossoms, will be in bloom for most of April.

UP ON . . .

Hastings Hill

Don't forget to vote today!

Among visitors to Hastings Ranch for the spring vacation were two former residents who now live in Sacramento—Dorothy Hitchcock and Bette Beattie. Husbands Howard and Dick stayed home, but Dorothy and Bette took advantage of the school vacation and brought their children down to see their old friends.

Things weren't perfect, however. Bette came down with the flu while she was here, and Diane Hitchcock, a seventh grader, broke a small bone in her foot while on a beach party. Both men are engineers, Howard having a position with State Water Commission and Dick with Aerojet.

Two homes on Canfield Road are getting new occupants. The Charles Ayres and family have sold and soon will be leaving the neighborhood. Mrs. Ethel Harris ditto. As soon as we discover who the new owners are we'll let you know.

Jan and Jack Fleming, with son, Jim, spent the Easter holidays at Palm Springs. The John Norrises had a wonderful 10-day stay at Squaw Valley skiing. The "fates" were kind enough to play them 6 inches of fresh snow which was greatly enjoyed by all the ski enthusiasts.

Easter week saw Dorothy and George Schlueter and son, Greg, seeing the sights at Las Vegas and trying out their boat at Lake Meade, in the company of Jack and Barbara Follmer and their boys, Bill and Michael, and the Joan and Bill Lawsons and sons, Johnny and Tommy. The Lawsons brought their boat, too.

It was nice to see John Babick home for Easter. He is having a fine time for himself at Rancho San Antonio School out in Chatsworth. Sounds like a wonderful place with everything to keep a young man's interest—including horses.

Irene and Russ Delahooke, with the Harry Langes, spent the Easter weekend in Berkeley, where they attended a wedding and saw their children, Jane and Doug Delahooke. The young people, students at Cal, came home with them to finish off their spring holiday.

Betty Clutterbuck was in a workshop production at San Marino Little Theater last Tuesday night. She took part in a skit and presented a monologue. The evening's entertainment was played to a closed-in invited audience. Betty had bad luck when she recently appeared on the Art Linkletter show. Came the big day and she found laryngitis was "setting in."

Polls Open Until 7 P.M.
In City Election Today

By Lucie Lubisich

Hastings Ranch voters, 80 per cent of whom failed to express themselves in the Pasadena primary election last month, have another opportunity today in the runoff election between four candidates for two city director posts. Polls remain open until 7 p.m.

Two incumbents, Milton Brenner and Seth Miller, currently serving as mayor, are pitted against C. M. Linton, an attorney, and Grant Changstrom, a real estate man.

The runoff election has sparked more interest than the primary did, when only 29 per cent voted citywide, and the Hastings area vote was even lighter. In the primary, two incumbents, Floyd Gwinn and Ray Woods, were returned to office but two other offices remain in doubt because no candidate received a simple majority.

Linton and Changstrom, running for their first public offices, did receive larger votes, however, than did their principal opponents.

Reportedly, the incumbents have hired a public relations firm to handle the last two weeks of the campaign for them, although they did little or no campaigning before the primary.

According to Linton and Changstrom, who have been out daily on the coffee-hour speech making circuit, no incumbent has been defeated in Pasadena in 27 years. New blood gets into the council only when an incumbent dies in office and other members of the board appoint another man, candidates say.

One exception to this is Clarence Oakley, representative from this area, elected two years ago, who defeated several candidates for the job. No incumbent, however, was in the running.

Both Linton and Changstrom are campaigning against what they term apathy among the city directors, who they say prefer the status quo to any new action, thereby leaving city gates in office and other members of the board appoint another man, candidates say.

The maternal grandfather is Eugene Short of Norris City, Ill. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Angelina Tartaglione of Meadville, Pa. The Tartagliones have three sons, Thomas, 3; Stephen, 2; and James, 1.

PHONE EXPANSION
The 3,867 independent (non-Bell) telephone companies of America, of which the local telephone company is one, and which serve 11,000 communities and more than half of the service area of the country, now operate 10,184,000 of the 66,943,800 telephones in the United States, its territories and possessions, and have a total plant investment of $3,077,076,800.

The Jack Hardings of Temple City are the parents of a daughter, Kim Michele, born March 22 at Arcadia Methodist Hospital, weighing 5 pounds, 14½ ounces. The mother, the former Patricia McMaster, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis McMaster, former Ranch residents now residing in Altadena. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Harding, 3780 Ranch Top Rd.

Members of the sorority executive board will be hostesses for the evening, which will include both junior and senior AOPis.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. William Weston, ATlantic 6-5901.

Republican Club to Meet

Edward S. Shattuck, Los Angeles attorney and member for California of the Republican National Committee of the Republican Party, will be guest speaker at the Foothill Young Republicans monthly buffet supper meeting to be held at Knights of Pythias Hall, 2268 E. Hospital
Juniors
Have Benefit

New summer fashions, in a rainbow of colors to illustrate the theme "Rainbow Rhapsody," will be presented by Junior Auxiliary of St. Luke Hospital for its annual spring benefit April 11 at 2 p.m. in the staff room of the hospital.

The last-minute look in summer sportswear, party gowns and beach togs will be modeled by members in a rainbow-decked room, complete to the "pot of gold." Miss Lillian Nott will comment on fashions from Woodruff's of Alhambra.

President, Marilyn Henery, is being assisted by Lynn Murphy, fashion show chairman, and members of her committee.

Proceeds from the show will be given Pasadena City College to be used in its revolving scholarship fund for a nursing career. In addition to enhancing this fund annually, the members of Junior Auxiliary contribute many hours each month serving as volunteers in various departments of the hospital.

Girl Scout
Troop 346
Makes Favors

Patients at St. Luke Hospital were made a little happier on Easter Sunday by having attractive favors, made by members of Girl Scout Troop 346, placed on their dinner trays. The girls completed 150 of the favors.

Fun for the troop came about when Mrs. Jack M. Mayhew, 1009 Cynthia, leader, had a slumber party for the girls.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Mayhew and co-leader, Mrs. Jack Rinehart, to a movie. The refrigerator was raided in the "wee small" hours and the girls cooked their own breakfast.

Those participating were Susan Beers, Deri Kirkland, Sally Leonard, Pat LaFrough, Janice Rowley, Diane Sigel, and Beverly Zarembo.

On April 18, all alumni members in good standing, together with their husbands and escorts, will be guests at a special party in the Walter Heges home, 2630 Devonport Rd., San Marino.

Sigma Kappa

Members of Sigma Kappa senior alumnae of Pasadena are looking forward to a busy month of April.

The group's regular monthly meeting will be held the evening of April 8, at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Robert Howe, 2307 Sinaloa Ave., Altadena. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Kettenberg and Mrs. T. H. Eggleston.

Following election of officers for the coming year, a program, "Meet the Lady," will be presented by Sondra Shattuck and Viola Wilburton. All Sigma Kappas in the San Gabriel Valley area are invited.

On April 18, all alumni members in good standing, together with their husbands and escorts, will be guests at a special party in the Walter Heges home, 2630 Devonport Rd., San Marino.

New idea—from Security Bank:

Custom Credit
gives you money
as you need it!

Not just a "one-time" loan—not a credit card plan—but a new way to have ready money to use anywhere, any time you need it.

Home appliances

Education expenses

Family budgeting

Vacation expenses

What is Custom Credit?

It's a way to arrange for an extra cash reserve before you need the money. To use any or all of it, just write a check. And this personal cash reserve costs you nothing—no payments to make—until you use it.

How much money can you get?

You agree upon the amount when you arrange for Custom Credit. Your cash reserve can range up to $2400. Just figure how much you can conveniently repay the Bank each month. Then multiply by 12 or 24 months. The answer is the amount available. Example: if you can pay back $25 a month, your reserve is $300 or $600. And, as you make the payments, you automatically keep increasing your cash reserve.

Can you use your money any time?

Absolutely. You might use just a small portion now. Or perhaps not even touch it... just enjoy the good feeling of having extra money on tap, ready "if and when." Or you may want to spend all or most of it right away. Now or later...one big check or many small ones...it's all up to you.

How do you pay back the money?

Remember, you pay nothing until you draw upon your cash reserve. Then payments will be either in the amount agreed upon—or 10% of the outstanding balance, whichever is less (with a minimum of $25). You decide on payment amounts, payment dates. You pay bank interest; and only on the money used, not on your unused balance. It's all tailor-made to fit your family finances.

Is Custom Credit different from a personal loan?

Completely different. Your cash reserve is yours to use any time, anywhere, for any reason. No coming in and asking for a loan each time you need extra money. No forms to fill out. No questions to answer. And—each monthly payment builds back your cash supply. You can keep spare money ready and waiting; all the years of your life!

Does this new plan replace credit cards?

It offers far more than credit cards can. You pay for the things you want by either personal Security checks, drawn against your checking account, or by special Custom Credit checks which we provide. It's like having instant cash—and there's nothing quite like cash for real convenience.

How do you get started?

We've made this easy for you, too. Simply phone your nearby Security Bank and ask for Custom Credit. You don't even have to be a Security customer. Whether you call or come in, we'll be happy to answer all your questions and help you sign up. Why not do it right away?

Look at these examples

February Business Activity Declines in Southland

After 10 consecutive months of improvement, business activity in the southern half of California declined moderately in February, according to the index compiled by the research department of Security First National Bank.

The bank's findings were revealed this week by E. W. Wiegand, vice president and manager of Security First's Foothill and Rosemead branch.

Department store sales and kilowatt hours of power used by industry, which were at above average levels during the two preceding months, lost ground in February. These losses were only partially offset by gains in other components of the business index, Mr. Wiegand said.

DESPITE THE drop, the index remained 9.7 per cent above the recession level of a year ago and higher than any previous month except January, the local banker stated.

Unemployment increased moderately in mid-February, but the rise was less than usual for the time of year. On a seasonally adjusted basis, unemployment declined in the Los Angeles and Fresno areas and remained unchanged in the San Diego area. The Los Angeles improvement was largely due to supermarket employees returning to work after the January labor disputes.

Manufacturing employment increased 3.2 per cent over the year-earlier figure, but aircraft employment remained 2.2 per cent below February of 1958, despite a numerical gain of 1,600 between mid-January and mid-February.

A SEASONAL bright spot in the Southland economy, Mr. Wiegand explained, is the building and construction industry, which reached the highest level recorded in any February. Dollar volume of building permits and engineering construction contracts totaled 27 per cent more than February 1958.

Taking seasonal factors into consideration, building volume reached an annual rate of $3,031,000,000 in February, about the same as the average for the record year 1958.

Homebuilding activity continued at a comparatively high level during February, with permits being issued for 11,422 dwelling units in the southern half of the state—equivalent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 143,950 units. This compares with an actual total of 136,577 for 1958.

Russ Morgan and Dick Friend tied for best speaker of the evening award. Best table topics award went to Neil Brady.

Other speakers of the evening were Dr. Gaffey, John Logsdon and Frank Crowhurst.

Two Ear Phones Effective In Severe Deaf Cases

QUESTION—After having my baby three years ago my breasts shrank to half their normal size. How can I restore them?—D.L.

ANSWER—Various physical changes may take place in the breasts following childbirth. These are due to the physiological effects of pregnancy and vary in their degree in accordance with the general tissue tone of the mother. A certain amount of change cannot be prevented.

Various chest exercises may overcome sagging of the breasts. There are also some harmless mechanical exercises which can be utilized, but these should be carried out under the direction of a physician.

Hormone applications to the breasts may temporarily increase their size, but the effect disappears after the hormones are discontinued. There is no hormone treatment that has permanent effects in increasing the breast tissue.

Q—I have a 75 per cent loss of hearing in my right ear and a 55 per cent loss in my left ear. I wear a hearing aid that works well when one person is talking, but in a group of people all it produces is a conglomeration of noises. Is there a special hearing aid that might help this difficulty?—S.I.

A—A severe hearing loss, especially of the nerve type, is extremely difficult to correct with a hearing aid because the loss of the low tones is seldom as much as that of the high tones. No hearing aid yet invented can amplify the high tones only. Therefore, if they are made loud enough to understand, the low tones become much too loud and are distorted.

Recent investigations, however, have revealed that for more severe hearing losses, the wearing of a receiver in each ear is far more satisfactory than the use of only a single instrument.

We suggest that you investigate these new stereophonic hearing aids.

Q—What is the function of the vagus nerve and why is it necessary in some cases to sever it?—L.N.

A—The vagus nerve arises from the brain stem and emerges through the base of the skull. It passes down through the center of the chest and enters the abdominal cavity adjacent to the upper end of the stomach.

It has a regulatory effect on the heart and on the production of acids in the stomach and other digestive functions. Some of its branches in the neck extend to the vocal

Saroyan Works Magic in 'The Time of Your Life'

By Edward Voorhees

Probably not since Maxim Gorky's classic drama of character, "The Lower Depths" (1902), has a stage play presented such a large and varied range of fascinating characters as William Saroyan's tough-and-tender human comedy "The Time of Your Life," now showing at the Pasadena Playhouse.

And these characters are shown as indigenous to San Francisco—seen in reverie, in action at "Nick's Pacific Street Bar" on the waterfront, of an October day from early afternoon till nearly midnight. Most of Nick's nearly 30 visitors help weave a conversation piece that shows how each is seeking there a comfort or a satisfaction by trying out a personal talent or urge.

KEY FIGURE is Joe, with his, at first, mysterious plenty of money, seated at the front table on the right, with his successive bottles of champagne, an alert, benevolent, and tender philosopher, whose quiet but swift "hunches" and impulses are carried into action by his messenger Tom.

These two give the play its key meaning. Thus Joe's impulses confer such tangible gifts as wondrous toys to street urchins, paper money instead of dimes to the newsboy, and moving Kitty Duval to a respectable hotel room where she can rest unmolested to dream her dream of green hills and a decent home.

And he manages a last-minute rescue of Kitty from Blick, the hounding and sadistic vice officer, and sends her off for San Diego as a bride with Tom, in his new job as truck driver.

It all sounds incredible, but it is made credible—and it is real in Saroyan's point of view: "Have no shame," he says, "in being kindly and gentle. In the time of your life, live—so that in that wondrous time you shall not add to the misery and sorrow of the world but shall smile to the infinite delight and mystery of it."

ONSLOW STEVENS, veteran actor of countless plays and films, and a member of the first graduating class of the Playhouse School of the Drama, directs the play and acts with quiet power the role of Joe, with excellent support in the parts of Tom and Kitty by John Alderson and Marjorie Owens. Bob Stevenson plays Nick, the owner of the honkytonk, who "can't" understand these crazy people—they're all crazy—but he does, sufficiently to give every character, veteran or beginner, his chance to express himself in action or words—except the vice officer Blick—including the starving piano player; the pinball pusher; the eccentric dancer; the frantic, telephoning lover; the wordless drunk; the lecturing longshoreman; the Arab, with his warning of doom: "No foundation! No foundation!" and his beguiling soft notes on the harmonica, acted by Roger Armstrong, painter-cartoonist; and Graydon Spalding as Kit Carson, an amusing frontier movie type in fringed buckskins, white mustachios and goatee, who shoots Blick dead every night—but never too often!

THESE "CHARACTERS" and a dozen others color an evening that is both highly entertaining and thought-provoking in the direction of tolerance and generosity toward the foibles, eccentricities, "failures" and "successes" of mankind.

This Pulitzer Prize winner, with "the biggest opening night turnout of the past two theatre seasons" at the Playhouse, may well surpass them all in length of run—showing every evening, except Mondays, at 8:30, with Saturday matinees at 2:30.

Garden Notes . . .

Summer-Blooming Bulbs Are Big and Showy

The summer-blooming bulbs may lack the cheery brightness of their spring counterparts. But, they make up in size and bloom for any such shortcomings. They are big and showy. What's more, they come at a time when we can enjoy them, not—as so many spring bulbs—in the middle of a rain storm.

Most gardeners are familiar with old summer standbys such as the Gladiolus, Dahlia and Tuberous Begonia. But many have yet to meet such other gaudy specimens as Tigridia, Agapanthus and Amaryllis.

LET'S CONSIDER these three in that order before going on.

The California Association of Nurserymen reports that Tigridia bulbs are in good supply once again (a big freeze some years back wiped out much of the commercial crop and strictly limited supply). They are definitely for every garden, putting forth gorgeous, three-cornered tiger flowers in mid-summer. Each bulb lasts one day, but each bulb puts out a staggering succession of blooms.

The Agapanthus, or Blue Lily of the Nile, is usually sold by division of its tuberous root in gallon cans. In the garden or in a tub, its clusters of flowers in a good shade of blue are always welcome—coming as they do on tall straight stems for several weeks in summer.

SIMILAR IN flower form, but totally different in habit, is the common garden Amaryllis. It sends up bare, brown stalks, topped by large pink flower heads, before any foliage shows up. This habit dictates that Amaryllis be planted where some low-growing shrubbery hides its basal nakedness.

And finally, worth your attention are the Cannas. They show long and often spectacular bloom—resembling somewhat a giant gladiolus—if given a warm location, rich soil and plenty of water. Cannas are not subtle, but then, neither are any of the summer bulbs. They're real showpieces, big and colorful—just what you need to brighten the summer garden.

RECREATION FOR ALL—More than 100,000 men, women and children, ages 3 to 83, use the four community centers annually and participate in the extension programs supported by the United Jewish Welfare Fund. The UJWF drive, opened April 1 with $7,500,000 goal, aids 90 local health, recreation, and social service agencies. (The UJWF sponsored centers are: Bay Cities, Hollywood-Los Feliz, Westside and San Fernando Valley Cities.)

Railroad Society Sets Outing

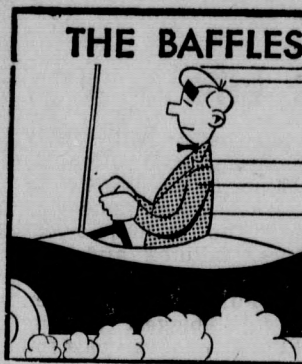

Recalling the Sunday outing of "the good old days," 500 members and friends of Pacific Railroad Society will make a round-trip excursion between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara on Sunday, April 12, according to David K. Todd, society excursion director.

A feature of the excursion, Todd announced, will be the northbound operation of the special Southern Pacific train over the rural Santa Paula Branch from Saugus to Ventura, a section of the line which has not seen a regular passenger train in 30 years.

The all-day trip is open to anyone interested in railroading.

On arrival at Santa Barbara, excursionists will visit the estate of Seymour Johnson to see his nationally famous Goleta Valley Railroad—a miniature live steam operation.

Reservations and additional information may be obtained by writing the society at Box 5279, Metropolitan Station, Los Angeles, 55, Calif.

Balladeers Are Civic Auditorium Feature April 26

Marais and Miranda, known as the International Balladeers, will come to the Pasadena Civic Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, April 26, at 3 p.m.

They will bring songs which Josef Marais learned as a boy on his father's sheep ranch in South Africa, songs of France, Flanders and Holland which Miranda heard as a girl in Amsterdam, and songs of their present adopted country, America.

Their unique arrangements feature the intertwining of Josef's easy baritone with Miranda's lilting soprano to a guitar background.

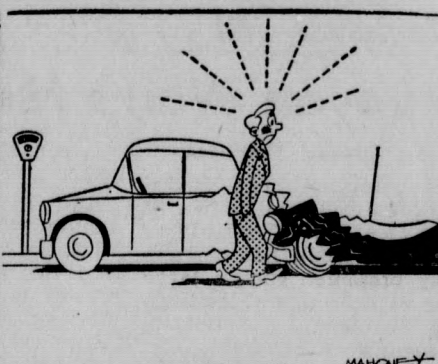

Each song contains one verse in the original language for authentic flavor and the rest in English.

Ramona Play To Open 32nd Season April 18

In a natural setting of rustic beauty with snow-capped Mount San Jacinto as a backdrop, the early history of California will once more be unfolded as the famed Ramona Outdoor Play opens its 32nd season April 18 and 19 in the Ramona Bowl, historic landmark of the state.

Based on the historic novel of Helen Hunt Jackson, who lived in the San Jacinto Valley while gathering material for her book, telling of the mistreatment of the California Indians by the invading American settlers, this play has become a mecca for thousands of visitors from all parts of the world.

In the past 32 years more than 650,000 persons have seen this play. Advance reservations for the six performances, on April 18 and 19, 25 and 26, and May 2 and 3, indicate that upwards of 35,000 persons will visit the San Jacinto Valley and the Ramona Bowl.
